Welcome

It gives me pleasure to welcome you to Cardiff University's programme of part-time courses for adult learners. We offer a wide range of subjects to study at a variety of different levels.

We also provide Pathways to a degree which is a part time route to undergraduate study at Cardiff University. So whether you're studying with us for personal development, to enhance your career prospects, or to increase your knowledge you can expect to be stimulated and challenged and, on most courses, earn credits toward a qualification from Cardiff University.

Best wishes,

Dr Zbig Sobiesierski
Director, Continuing and Professional Education

Qualifications

Prove your potential by gaining qualifications, enhance your studies, improve your CV and realise your personal ambitions.

What qualifications can you gain with us?

Reasons to study with us

Our fascinating subjects will challenge and inspire you. Here is a flavour of what you will enjoy when you study with Continuing and Professional Education.

Open, relaxed and inclusive learning

We encourage and welcome everyone to study with us. Many of our courses have no entry requirements – all you need is an interest in the subject and a willingness to explore it in the company of others. Expect stimulating discussions and a strong sense of community.

Flexible and accessible study

We schedule courses in the daytime, evening, weekends and online to make it as easy as possible for you to attend.

We are based in the centre of Cardiff with good transport links.

We are happy to discuss specific access requirements you may have. Please contact our Disability Advisor if you have concerns about accessing the building or need aids to learning.

Contact: learn@cardiff.ac.uk

Gain university credits and qualifications

Our Pathways to a degree provide a part-time route to degree study at Cardiff University (see inside cover).

When you successfully complete your assessments you will earn credits towards qualifications. These credits are a national scheme, which means they are recognised by most universities, particularly useful for those wishing to study a degree.

Extra study support

Your tutor will support and encourage you as you study. We also have online resources to help you plan and write your assessments:

- ▶ The Learning Guide
- ▶ The Student Handbook

These resources are found on our website.

Libraries and facilities

When you enrol on a course, you become a Cardiff University student for the duration of your study. This gives you access to a wealth of resources:

- ▶ Libraries – you can use most of the University's libraries. You will have access to books, newspapers, magazines, journals, CDs, DVDs and an online library search. You can borrow up to ten items at a time. You can also book a study space.
- ▶ Computer Accounts – A computer account will automatically be created for you when you enrol. Your log-in details will be sent to the email you provide when you enrol. This will give you access to a range of applications and software.
- ▶ Language Laboratory – we have an interactive digital language laboratory, which we use extensively to enhance your speaking, listening and interpreting skills.
- ▶ Computer suite – this is a dedicated teaching room for computer programming and web development courses.

Any enquiries about Library cards or membership please contact librarymembership@cardiff.c.uk

Student rates and discounts

- ▶ Full use of the University's sports facilities and a reduced rate
- ▶ Student Union membership: 30 credits or above = full membership
Below 30 credits = associated membership
- ▶ Discounts with a large range of companies upon purchase of an NUS card.

Cardiff University staff and student discount

Staff and full-time students at Cardiff University are eligible for a discount on our part-time courses and pay the concessionary fee.

Your chance to study

Continuing and Professional Education (CPE) provides a range of part-time pathways to enable you to study an undergraduate degree at Cardiff University.

You will work in a small group to develop your knowledge in a positive and supportive environment. Our students bring their own life experiences and motivations to generate a rich mix of active discussion and a positive and stimulating student experience.

Our tutor Dr Josephine Smedley commented: "From a tutor perspective, teaching Pathway students is enormously rewarding. While course content is equivalent in University quality and standards, the learning benefits from the active contributions from students. Questions flow in abundance and the community spirit within the group enables real-world experiences to be actively shared – actively linking theory with practice. As the learner dynamic and confidence grows, my tutor role has progressed from teacher to facilitator. Learning is much more learner centred with greater ownership gained by listening, questioning and shared contributions from real-world experiences. After each meeting, I always come away having personally learned such a lot and marvel at the enthusiasm and commitment of the students as they progress on their individual quests of knowledge enhancement."

Jemma Cox also enjoys teaching modules on this pathway and commented: "I have been teaching on the Pathway to Business and Management since Cardiff University first introduced the programme and it is a hugely rewarding programme to be a part of. Over the last few years, it has given me the opportunity to help students to build their confidence to study at University level and to develop new skills, whilst applying existing knowledge and skills to the study of business and management. The Pathways course is a great way to gain an insight into the commitment and work involved in studying at degree level, whilst also enabling students to study around their other commitments. It is also a wonderful opportunity to meet other students with similar ambitions along the way. Helping students to take those first steps to achieving their ambitions and seeing their success when they graduate or achieve their goals, is one of the highlights of my role. I am therefore looking forward to welcoming a new group of students to our Pathways course this year, to help even more people take that first step towards achieving their ambitions."

People Watching: Exploring Characterisation

Fee £175.00 (Concessionary Fee £140.00)

Briony Goffin

This course uses people as its inspiration, from the people we've known, the people we've seen, the people we've overheard and the people we've imagined. Each class will explore a different aspect of characterisation and will look at how to grow memoir and fiction from the people of our lives. Via a variety of writing exercises and suggestions, students will amass a portfolio of original works built around luminous, three-dimensional and unforgettable characters. The teaching style will ensure a warm, supportive and stimulating environment for writers of all experiences.

10 weekly meetings
Wednesdays from 11:00 to 13:00
Starting 3 May 2023

Venue to be confirmed
10 Credits, Level 4

Writing Cardiff: Inspiration and the City

Fee £175.00 (Concessionary Fee £140.00)

Dr Catherine Phelps

This module is taught partly in the classroom and partly via visiting various sites in Cardiff, including Bute Park, Cardiff Bay and the museum. Students will consider the role of cityscape, art, national identity, and nature as creative writing prompts, while exploring the role of literature in shaping the city's history.

10 weekly meetings
Wednesdays from 13:00 to 15:00
Starting 3 May 2023

Venue to be confirmed
10 Credits, Level 4
CRW22A4081A

Life Writing

Fee £175.00 (Concessionary Fee £140.00)

Mab Jones

Draw on your own history and experience to tell the story of your life. Whether you want to engage readers, share your history with family and friends, or simply write for yourself, this course will give you the methods and means of composing compelling life writing, autobiography and memoir.

10 weekly meetings
Wednesday from 19:00 to 21:00
Starting 28 September 2022

Rewriting the Story: Bodies, Illness and Disability

Fee £175.00 (Concessory Fee £140.00)

- ▶ Jamie Woods

The disability narratives we read in the media are often centred on 'suffering', or bravery in the face of adversity, 'surviving' rather than simply living. What if we rewrote that story? This module invites students to consider the way bodies, illness and disability can be explored and constructed in creative writing. No previous writing experience is required.
- ▶ 10 weekly meetings
Thursdays from 19:00 to 21:00
Starting 4 May 2023

This course will be taught online

First place prize for former creative writing student

Emma Carr-Ferguson has scooped the prestigious first prize of $20,000 in an online writing competition run by Vocal.

Emma's mournful and insightful entry Until the Rain Stops is a chilling yet poignant timeline of a disaster in a Welsh coalpit. Head Judge, author and former Booker Prize judge Erica Wagner, commented:

“ Ferguson, time-stamps her story, Until the Rain Stops, to give it a sense of immediacy, arresting us with the image of blood turning to glass in a young woman's veins. Who are those 'wild and bony' children? The reader feels the same alarm as the people in the story do when the steam whistle blasts. ”

Emma decided to enter this prestigious writing competition after completing the Young Adult Fiction course provided by Continuing and Professional Education (CPE). Emma commented:

“ The course was very engaging, I loved every session. I received valuable advice from industry professionals in how to pursue opportunities as a writer. It's made a world of difference to my outlook on pursuing my hobby as a potential career. I gained a deeper understanding of what defines the genre, how to plot a novel, how to approach the publishing industry and find opportunities as a writer. It was the stepping stone I didn't know I needed into taking myself a bit more seriously as an aspiring author, and made the publishing industry as a whole seem more accessible. I gained a lot of confidence from the course ”

Coordinator of the Humanities programme at CPE
Dr Michelle Deininger commented:

“ Emma should be congratulated for such a well-wrought story, closely bound to the legacy of Wales' industrial past, which is underpinned by an appreciation for the raw power of nature. Creative writing courses such as Young Adult Fiction provide a supportive space for adults to try out new ideas and to find their own voice – Emma has clearly found hers. ”

We offer an Inside Narratives pathway which will allow you to study towards these degrees at Cardiff University:

- ▶ English Literature
- ▶ English Literature and Creative Writing
- ▶ English Language
- ▶ English Language and Literature
- ▶ Philosophy

There are no formal entry requirements. Once you have successfully completed an Inside Narratives pathway, you are guaranteed an interview at Cardiff University. Should you progress on to a degree programme, you will be eligible for 'advanced standing' of 60 credits – this means that these 60 credits will count towards the first year of your degree.

How the Pathway works

Modules listed page 15-16.

Inside Narratives is made up of 60 credits.
 Each module is worth 10 Credits.

To study a particular degree subject after the Pathway, you must study the appropriate core module. All the Inside Narratives core modules have the word 'Inside' in the title.

If you want to apply for the degree in English Literature and Creative Writing, pick Inside Literature, Inside Creative Writing, and Inside Poetry.

If you're not sure which degree you'd like to do after the Pathway, make sure you pick a range of core and optional Pathway modules that you find interesting, totalling 60 credits.

If you want, you can pick ONE suitable 10 credit module from the main prospectus instead of a Pathway module*.

* For example, students interested in Creative Writing could pick Environmental Writing, The World of Cinema, Novel Writing Workshop or Writing Science Fiction and Fantasy.

Core modules

Inside Literature

“I have learned to trust my intuition”

Christopher Jones is an experienced musician who decided to enrol on Gareth Churchill’s Composing Music Workshop.

I had decided that I wanted some formal tuition regarding writing music, I am already a performer and have written in the past but needed an expert eye. Gareth was always constructive and supportive in his comments and introduced me to pieces of music and composers as well as compositional ideas with which I was not familiar. I have learned to trust my intuition. Also, the importance of writing the score in ways that clearly express my ideas along with the importance of producing a score that is suitable for performance. Eminently practical.

Your music is always respected by Gareth, and however experienced you are, the detail and perceptiveness of feedback will always give you techniques and ideas upon which to build.

The Exploring the Past pathway provides a route to study undergraduate degrees at Cardiff University in:

- ▶ Ancient History
- ▶ Archaeology
- ▶ History
- ▶ Religion

There are no formal entry requirements. Once you have successfully completed an Exploring the Past pathway, you are guaranteed an interview at Cardiff University. Should you progress on to a degree programme, you will be eligible for 'advanced standing' of 60 credits – this means that these 60 credits will count towards the first year of your degree.

How the Pathway works

The Exploring the Past Pathway is made up of six 10-credit modules, including:-

At least...
ONE 10-credit core module from Group 1

AND FIVE 10-credit option modules from Group 2

OR FOUR 10-credit option modules from Group 2 PLUS an appropriate 10-credit module from the wider programme.

Group 1: Core Modules

Exploring the Past: History

Fee £235.00 (Concessionary Fee £188.00)

Dr Melissa Julian-Jones

What is History? This course will equip you with skills for studying the past. We will explore ideas about nation and identity in the British Isles, from the Middle Ages to the present, considering national myths, ethnicity and ideas about heritage, whilst also examining themes such as how history is used by different societies.

9 weekly meetings
Thursdays from 17:00 to 19:00
Starting 29 September 2022

John Percival Building, Colum Drive, Cardiff
10 Credits, Level 4
HIS22A4596A

Exploring World Religions

Fee £235.00 (Concessionary Fee £188.00)

Dr Gina Bevan

What is religion? How do we study it? We will explore religions from around the world, introducing different faiths and diverse global religious traditions, and asking wider questions surrounding texts, practices, authority and identity. We will consider issues religions face today, such as migration, technology, secularisation and the emergence of 'new religions'.

9 weekly meetings
Mondays from 19:00 to 21:00
Starting 3 October 2022

This course will be taught online

Group 2: Option Modules

Archaeology and the Battle of the Sexes

Fee £235.00 (Concessionary Fee £188.00)

Dr Christina Hatzimichael Whitley

Relationships and conflicts between men and women are as old as humanity itself. How much have they changed in all that time? Through case-studies crossing two thousand years of Mediterranean archaeology and history, we will seek to answer that question, exploring identity, agency, childhood, old-age, and evidence such as artworks, burials, pottery and textiles.

9 weekly meetings
Tuesdays from 17:00 to 19:00
Starting 4 October 2022

John Percival Building, Colum Drive, Cardiff

STUDENT TESTIMONIALS

“The Exploring the Past pathway opened doors for me that I didn’t even know existed and for that I am truly grateful”

“ I had a general interest in history which motivated me to enrol on the pathway.

The pathway really prepared me for my degree by allowing me to refresh on the academic skills I hadn't used in several years. The level of support and encouragement I received while studying helped me realise my own capabilities academically. There was always a tutor on hand to answer questions, this continued throughout the process of transition onto the degree scheme. Every step of the way there was always someone to provide a helping hand when needed.

The pathway allowed me to gain valuable skills in research and writing and I gained valuable skills in my professional life which prepared me to progress into job roles with more responsibility.

The pathway is an investment in yourself. It is a great way to get a taster into what a possible degree would look like. You are able to explore what interests you in a way that doesn't impede on your work life balance. If you are hesitant in deciding if the course is right for you, rest assured that all the support you need will be there regardless of how much you need. The pathway opened doors for me that I didn't even know existed, and for that I am truly grateful.

This table helps you find your level however we know that in some cases this can be difficult. This is why you have the option of switching from one course to another during the first few weeks.

Recommended Level of Competence at Entry	Stages	Level of Competence reached at end of stage course (All Languages)	Common European Framework of Reference
You have no previous knowledge of the language.	STAGE A	Basic survival skills: understanding basic written and spoken texts; taking part in simple conversation; conveying simple information in writing.	Preparation for A1
	STAGE A+	Stage A+ has been created as a bridge between Stage A and Stage B.
You may have studied the language a long time ago and you may be a bit rusty now (one year's part-time study or 'rusty' GCSE in the language studied).	STAGE B	You should have a sufficient vocabulary for coping with everyday situations with predictable content and simple survival needs. You should be able to handle very short social exchanges. You should be able to understand a simple description.	Preparation for A2
	STAGE C	You should be able to confidently cope with everyday situations. You should be able to make and respond to invitations, apologies, etc. You should be able to understand a simple and direct exchange of limited information on familiar and routine matters.
You may have had a good command of the language some time ago and you want to re-activate and build upon your comprehension and expression (three years' part-time study or 'rusty' A-Level in the language studied).	STAGE D	You should have enough language to get by, with sufficient vocabulary to understand topics such as family, hobbies and interests, work, travel, and current events. You should be able to understand the main points in an idea or problem with reasonable precision.	Preparation for B1
	STAGE E	You should have a sufficient range of language to be able to understand descriptions and arguments on most topics related to family, hobbies and interests, work, travel, and current events. You should be able to identify unfamiliar words from the context on topics related to your field/interests.
You have a very good working knowledge of the language and you want a stimulating course to match and stretch your competencies (five years' part-time study or Advanced Stage E).	STAGE F	You should be able with some effort to keep up with fast and colloquial discussions. You should be able to understand detailed information reliably.	Preparation for B2
	STAGE G/H	You should have a good command of broad lexical repertoire and a good command of idiomatic expressions and colloquialisms. You should be able to understand language effectively for social purposes, including emotional, allusive and joking usage.

Italian 21st Century Poetry in 40 poems

Fee £341.00 (Concessionary Fee £273.00)

Dr Luca Paci

Contemporary Italian poetry offers an extraordinary range of styles, voices, approaches, ways of looking at the world and ways of representing it. This course explores the multiplicity of these voices with a selection of the most representative poets from different backgrounds. We will read, comment and contextualise the poems looking at topics such as society, identity, sex, politics, migration and race in Italy. We will also reflect on how to approach literary translation through hands on practice. By giving you the space both to read and translate, the module aims to improve your translating skills, build confidence, and help you understand the main challenges of poetry translation.

Intensive Language Courses

Every summer we run intensive language courses in June/July. Information will be available from our website and Reception in April.

These courses are ideal if:

- ▶ Your language course ended in the spring and you would like to get extra practice during the summer
- ▶ You would like to try a new language to see if you'd enjoy it;
- ▶ You're planning to go abroad this summer and want to learn basic phrases or brush up on existing language skills.

These courses are good value for money and are usually very popular.

We look forward to seeing you!

The Pathway to a degree in Modern Languages gives you the choice to go on to study at Cardiff University either one language (Single Honours) or two languages (Joint Honours).

It usually takes a little under a year to complete 30 credits, so under normal circumstances you would finish the pathway in two years. Should you progress on to a degree programme, you will be eligible for 'advanced standing' of 60 credits – this means that these 60 credits will count towards the first year of your degree.

STUDENT TESTIMONIALS

“If you are bilingual and would like to be an interpreter, this course is for you.”

Saeideh Poureisa enrolled on the Public Service Interpreting – Criminal Justice course.

“I have always been very interested in an interpreting course, given my background speaking three languages (Farsi, French and English). I wanted to put my language skills to good use and become a qualified interpreter with a view to becoming a voice for the Farsi-speaking community, especially to help those with limited language proficiency to break their communication barriers by helping them to understand each other and communicate efficiently.

I have developed my memory retention skills, note-taking and paraphrasing skills, as well as my listening skills. My research skills have also improved and the course enabled me to research terminology more effectively, helping me to create a glossary of specialised vocabulary. The skills and knowledge I acquired during this course enabled me to learn new skills including consecutive interpreting, simultaneous interpretation and sight translation skills.

If you are bilingual and would like to be an interpreter, this course is for you. It helps you to develop all the skills you need to become an interpreter and will fully prepare you for DPSI examination.”

STUDENT TESTIMONIAL

Is politics your passion?

Knowledge is power. Equip yourself with the knowledge to understand Welsh, UK and international politics and relations in our rapidly changing world. Cardiff University provides a pathway to an undergraduate degree in international relations and politics for people who have a passion this subject but never had the opportunity to forge a career in this field.

This pathway is equivalent to 50% of the first year of a degree and is intended to provide students with the skills needed to study the degree in international relations and politics at Cardiff University.

Students engage with contemporary politics and are given the opportunity to reflect on life-changing political decisions as they happen.

Simba Chabarika graduated from the School of Law and Politics in 2019. He started his degree after completing the Pathway.

“ I am profoundly grateful to the pathway especially Jan Stephens for her advice, support and encouragement and of course the wonderful team of tutors who prepared us for what was to come in the degree course!

The pathway course is a huge inspiration to those who want to further their education. I never thought I was capable of achieving such success until the course showed me my real potential!

Michelle Glover encourages others to enrol on the Pathway to a degree in Dental Hygiene

“ I encourage anyone thinking of applying for a degree in this subject area to enrol on this pathway, as I am now happily studying a degree in Dental Therapy and Hygiene at Cardiff University and would not have got here without this pathway course.

I have learnt about human biology which was the main reason for the application to this course. I did however surprise myself at how much I enjoyed the other three modules and learnt a lot about the subjects. The tutors were very helpful and supportive. This pathway is particularly helpful for those working full time as the courses were held in the evenings which meant I could continue working whilst studying. Having been out of education for many years, this pathway gave me confidence that I could learn new skills which has helped in my current studies. I would encourage others to go for it!

Option Modules

Education and Society

Fee £470.00 (Concessionary Fee £376.00)

Cate Hopkins

This module will introduce you to the role of education in modern society. You will consider the structure and organisation of education and be presented with a selection and summary of key policy changes and their impacts. The emphasis will be on developing your own understanding and critical analysis of the relationship between education and society and in this way, the module will provide a foundation for further studies on your Pathway.

For each pathway there are specific prerequisites. All pathways require you to have 5 GCSEs, grade C or 4 and above. These must include Maths and English/Welsh (if you went to a Welsh-medium school). Some pathways may require further qualifications.

After studying the pathway you will be able to make an application to study an undergraduate degree in these subject areas:

- ▶ adult nursing
- ▶ mental health nursing
- ▶ child nursing
- ▶ midwifery
- ▶ occupational therapy
- ▶ radiotherapy and oncology
- ▶ diagnostic radiography
- ▶ physiotherapy

Modules

Medical Imaging and the Human Body

Fee £175.00 (Concessionary Fee £140.00)

Dr Zbig Sobiesierski

Up until the 20th century, our understanding of human anatomy came largely from dissection. Beginning with a brief history of anatomy, we will examine how the application of x-ray, ultrasound, magnetic resonance and a range of other techniques allow us to construct different images, and so develop a more detailed and non-invasive understanding of the human body.

STUDENT TESTIMONIAL

Elinor Ridout

Mum inspired to study child nursing to honour her son.

In March 2021, Elinor Ridout tragically lost her beautiful 13 year old son William to a sudden and acute illness. Elinor found herself completely lost, her life had previously happily revolved around Will who also had disabilities, and his older sister. Soon after, she quickly felt the need to find a purpose, something to do in Will's honour and enrolled on the pathway to healthcare to pursue her dream of studying a degree in child nursing.

The pathway is provided by Continuing and Professional Education (CPE) and offers a clear route for adult learners hoping to study a degree at the School of Healthcare at Cardiff University. Elinor was determined to succeed and also show her daughter that it was still possible to have dreams and ambitions and to create a good life. She has recently received her offer to study Children's Nursing in September.

Elinor, who is 38 and lives in Bridgend commented:

“ I had learnt so much from Will over the years that I wanted to do something which would allow me to use everything he had taught me, and I have always enjoyed working with children. Will was often in and out of hospital with his epilepsy over the years, and he absolutely loved his nurses at his school and our local hospital. The way they cared for him (and supported me) always made me extremely grateful and he was never scared of being in hospital because of them. I know that Will would have been incredibly proud if I was a nurse and the thought of using all that Will taught me and being able to help other families on their journey seemed the right and only way forward.

I was so nervous about returning to study after so many years, especially with a subject that I hadn't previously studied! The support and communication prior to the course starting was brilliant, and I felt more at ease before the first lecture had even taken place. We also had brilliant support with the UCAS application process and I have just found out that I have secured my first offer to study Children's Nursing at Cardiff University in September which I am absolutely thrilled about.

Learning Counselling Skills

Fee £175.00 (Concessionary Fee £140.00)

The course provides basic training in the use of counselling skills for use in a variety of work and personal situations. The focus is on improving your communication skills and raising personal self-awareness. It is not training to become a 'Counsellor' but can serve as a taster of what undertaking that training might be like. The course is experiential and very practical, students will have the opportunity to practice using counselling skills every week in small groups, combined with an introduction to counselling theory.

There are no formal entry requirements. Should you progress on to a degree programme, you will be eligible for 'advanced standing' of 60 credits – this means that these 60 credits will count towards the first year of your degree.

Education and Society

Fee £470.00 (Concessionary Fee £376.00)

Cate Hopkins

This module will introduce you to the role of education in modern society. You will consider the structure and organisation of education and be presented with a selection and summary of key policy changes and their impacts. The emphasis will be on developing your own understanding and critical analysis of the relationship between education and society and in this way, the module will provide a foundation for further studies on your Pathway.

A former Pathway to Social Science student has returned as a tutor

Sikiya Adekanye completed the Pathway to Social Science which led her to degree studies. She now returns to Continuing and Professional Education (CPE) as a tutor to help others achieve their learning ambitions.

Sikiya achieved her masters degree in Social Science Research Methods in 2021 from Cardiff University's School of Social Sciences and has now begun a PhD in Criminology. She shares her story with us here:

“ I returned to academic study after dedicating many years to looking after my family.

I was introduced to the pathway at the end of a stand-alone course within CPE called Women into Management. I was more oriented towards science subjects at school, so I was a blank slate as far as social science was concerned and frankly, I did not quite 'get it' initially.

“I found the tutors very encouraging and the gentle introduction to the subject built my confidence in developing social science skills. I was inspired by the guest PhD students that told us about their own learning journeys and their current research. By the end of the pathway course, I became intrigued by the subject.

“With the provision of mentorship and peer support groups, I was able to settle into the first year of degree studies at Cardiff University. I made friends and developed an interest in criminology. I completed my degree and was fortunate to secure an ESRC funded MSc/PhD Studentship within Criminology.

“I am now in the second year of my part-time PhD programme and delighted to be teaching on two pathway modules within CPE. I feel quite privileged to have come full circle, back to the department where my academic

Dr Sara Jones commented:

“ We are so pleased to welcome Sikiya back to CPE as a tutor. I am certain that she will inspire others as a tutor who has experienced the pathway first-hand ”

Cardiff University offers adult learning in the community in collaboration with community partners, learning providers and other organisations. It provides flexible learning patterns and supports the people who have the ability to succeed by offering short level 3 courses.

Community Learning

Cardiff University delivers short community-based courses, accredited at level 3 and flexibly delivered in familiar locations around South East Wales.

Focused on those living in wards where university participation rates are low, the courses are designed and run in collaboration with a wide range of local organisations and other learning providers. Our partners play a vital role in ensuring the course content, structure and delivery meets local needs and interests.

Courses run throughout the year in Cardiff and the surrounding areas. The courses are delivered by dedicated tutors experienced in working with students from a variety of backgrounds and with different learning experiences.

We run up to 30 short courses each year providing attractive and flexible learning opportunities designed to support community based students' progress to the next stage whether that is work, college or university. Many of our students have progressed onto our 'CPE courses' or 'Pathways to a degree' courses.

Courses are run at different times of the day to suit the needs of a variety of people. They vary from one 2-hour session over 9 weeks, to intensive 3-day courses – whatever works best in that location and community.

Some examples of the courses we ran last year include:

- ▶ Starting and Running a Successful Small Business
- ▶ Public Service Interpreting
- ▶ Child's Play
- ▶ Understanding Childhood

Progression as a Mature Student

Many students use our courses as a springboard for further study. If you are considering studying for an undergraduate degree we can help you. We provide:

- ▶ information and support for those wishing to progress to university
- ▶ a clearer understanding of the various routes into Higher Education
- ▶ an insight into university life as a mature student
- ▶ information on the range of support that is available and how to access various support services
- ▶ access to online resources to help you decide where and what to study.

We work closely with other academic schools in Cardiff University, other universities, local education colleges, community groups and advisors so can offer suggestions on who you need to talk to in order to move forward.

Returning to study is a big step so the more help you receive early on the easier the transition will be.

- ▶ Mature Student Induction: open to mature students who are starting undergraduate studies and feel they may benefit from taking advanced action to assist them to make the most of their time at university, including an on campus visit day.

- ▶ Gives students early and direct access to useful people, information and services e.g. financial, welfare etc.
- ▶ Provides students with an opportunity to meet like-minded people and address any concerns early on
- ▶ Introduces students to the library and information resources
- ▶ Explores some of the key skills needed for effective study
- ▶ Gives students access to a network of support

Enrolment Guide

Enrol online

Search or browse our courses to find the course you are interested in enrolling on. Please enrol online if you are paying full or concessionary fee by card. You can do this by clicking 'Enrol now' within your chosen course to launch the process. Please note that in rare instances a course may fill up during the enrolment process. If this occurs a member of staff will contact you to arrange a refund or transfer to another course.

Enrol by email

You can also enrol on a course by downloading an enrolment form and returning it to us by email.

If you are applying to enrol for our courses on the HEFCW Fee Waiver scheme, have applied for funding for tuition fees through Student Finance Wales or would like to pay for your course in instalments then please download our enrolment guide and form (PDF).

Funding and paying for your learning

Find out if you are eligible for reduced course fees or to apply for a loan or grant towards your learning.

You can find course fees on the individual course pages.

Concessionary fees

You may be eligible for concessionary fees. Concessionary fee rates are shown below the standard fee rate for each course. You will be asked to provide appropriate evidence of your entitlement to concessionary fees when you apply for a course. Concessions are available to anyone receiving:

- ▶ Universal Credit
  - ▶ Income Support
  - ▶ Housing Benefit
  - ▶ Jobseekers Allowance
  - ▶ Income-related Employment and Support Allowance
  - ▶ Council Tax Reduction (does not include discounts and exemptions)
  - ▶ Working Tax Credit
  - ▶ State pension
  - ▶ Personal Independence Payment.
- They are also available to:
- ▶ Cardiff University staff and full-time Cardiff University students

Concessionary fees are not available if a sponsor (such as your employer or Student Finance Wales) is paying the fee.

Please contact us if you need further information.

Fee Waiver Scheme

You may be eligible to have your course fees covered by the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales (HEFCW) if you are a carer, care leaver, have a disability, are from an ethnic minority group, live in an area with low participation in higher education, are in receipt of DWP benefits, or your parents do not hold a higher education qualification.

You must be studying no more than 20 credits per year and not already hold a higher education qualification. More information can be found on our website.

Student Finance Wales

Part-time students may be eligible to apply to Student Finance Wales for a tuition fee loan to fund their learning. In some cases students may also be eligible for grants.

When completing the application form:

- ▶ the course name for all courses in Continuing and Professional Development must be 'Certificate of Higher Education (LEARN)'. No other course will be accepted.
- ▶ please change the default loan amount to the total of your course fees.

More information can be found on our website.

Financial Assistance Programme

Additional financial assistance may also be available from the University to students on low incomes who have no prior experience of Higher Education. For further information contact the Advice and Money Team by emailing adviceandmoney@cardiff.ac.uk

Pay by instalment

For courses where the fee payable is over £360, payment can be made by two instalments (payment by instalment is not possible if you are enrolling online).

The first instalment will be £260 and is required when you complete an application for the course. You will then be advised of the due date and amount of the second instalment by email.

Pay by invoice

If your employer (other than the University) is paying for the course and would prefer to pay by invoice they will need to provide a purchase order. This should be included in your application to the course. If you are unable to attach a purchase order, please contact us.
